Mercury Hits -14 In Area

Temperatures in the Salem area last night dropped to the lowest point they've reached this fall—it's not officially winter yet—and the unseasonal cold is going to stick around a while.

The mercury dipped to a low of -14 degrees at about 6 a.m. today at the city's disposal plant, attendants reported. City dwellers awoke at dawn to readings of zero or hereabouts.

The northern Ohio five-day forecast calls for temperatures to average 20 to 25 degrees below the normal high of 34-37 and low of 19-24.

To Remain Very Cold

The weather will remain bitterly cold over the weekend, moderating slowly toward mid-week but still remaining on the cold side.

Daily snow flurries are not expected to add much to the accumulation on the ground in the Salem area.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said four to six inches of new snow had accumulated by Thursday night in the snow belt across Lake, Geauga and Ashland counties, bringing total accumulation to as much as two feet near Lake Erie. Snow squalls or flurries were forecast for today.

The temperature dropped below zero in Cleveland in the early morning hours and was expected to climb no higher than 10 above zero in Northern Ohio during the day. For Southern Ohio the forecast called for a high of 5 to 15 degrees.

The Weather Bureau said temperatures tonight would drop to 5 below to 15 below zero throughout the state.

Interstate 90 was closed for a while Thursday from east of Cleveland to Buffalo, N.Y. Drifting snow across the highway kept traffic moving slowly Thursday night. The Ashtabula

22 Deaths Due To Weather

Freezing Cold Dips Deep Into South

By The Associated Press
Western New York braced today for another round of wind-whipped snow squalls which crippled the snowbelt area near Buffalo Thursday in a biting cold.

The huge mass of arctic air which enveloped many areas in the eastern two-thirds of the nation again dropped temperatures to sub-zero from Montana to Maine and southward to Kentucky. Freezing weather for the second consecutive day spread into northern Florida and along part of the Gulf Coast.

The pre-winter spell of cold and heavy snow—a week long in most of the Midwest—was blamed for at least 22 deaths. Temperatures in the snow-covered northern central region included 25 below in International Falls, Minn., a range to a chilly 26 above in Tallahassee, Fla.

The winter season starts officially Sunday.

The last official reading from Watertown, N.Y., off Lake Ontario, was -19, and the mercury was still falling.

Thursday's blinding storms dumped more than a foot of snow in the Buffalo snowbelt area, forcing schools to close and choking off traffic for five hours on the state thruway spur running to the Pennsylvania

Sebring Acts To Conserve Water

SEBRING — Residents are being asked to continue to conserve water today following the explosion and fire Thursday morning at the waterworks plant on Johnson Rd.

Nine persons were admitted to Alliance City Hospital Thursday for treatment of inhalation of chlorine fumes while fighting the blaze. Thirteen others were treated and released from the hospital.

Schools Closed Today

Sebring and West Branch District Schools were closed shortly after 1 p.m. and remained closed today as a measure of village officials spent Thursday afternoon telephoning schools, industries and local businesses in an attempt to get them to use as little water as necessary.

The town, still on emergency measures, is being served by one pump carrying water from the river into the plant and another pump carrying water from the plant into the reserve tank.

Work was carried on throughout the night repairing waterworks plant motors which were sent to Alliance.

Just Joking

College Youth Who Threatened JFK Questioned

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Jailed on a charge of threatening the life of President Kennedy, young Russell W. McLarry insisted he was only joking.

Investigators acknowledged they had found nothing to link him to the assassination. McLarry, a 21-year-old part-time college student described by his father as a "nice kid who shoots off his mouth too much sometimes," remained in county jail today in lieu of $2,500 bond.

He was arrested Thursday and charged with threatening Kennedy's life prior to the assassination Nov. 22. Secret Service agents quoted him as saying he was "proud—no, glad" that Kennedy was dead.

U.S. Atty. Barefoot Sanders of Dallas said:

"So far as we know, there is no connection" between McLarry and the President's death. "We merely charged him with making a threat against the President, a definite violation of the law, but that's as far as it goes."

Sanders pointed out that McLarry apparently had no association with Lee Harvey Oswald, the man accused of killing the President.

Oswald died two days after the President when night club operator Jack Ruby pumped a

Soviet Family Begins Stay In Portsmouth

Expenses of Visit Paid by Jaycees As Good Will Gesture

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—A Russian family of four began its first full day in the United States today by sleeping late and then enjoying a leisurely breakfast with seven Americans who are playing host.

While newsmen and a handful of Portsmouth detectives kept vigil in near-zero weather outside, Moscow automotive engineer Victor Pozdneyev, his wife and two children enjoyed the hospitality of the James C. McKenzie family.

Have 11-Room House

The McKenzies and their five children live in an 11-room, three-story English-style brick house in a fashionable section only six blocks from the heart of Portsmouth's business district.

Pozdneyev, 36; his Nina, 37; son Anatoly, 16, and daughter Olga, 6, arrived in this Ohio Valley community Thursday night after a 22-hour trip by air from their Moscow apartment. The 200-member Portsmouth Junior Chamber of Commerce, which arranged and is paying for the visit as an international good will gesture, has a full schedule of activities arranged for the visitors between now and their departure next Friday.

Typical Family Life

McKenzie has said he wants to show them typical family life in this community insofar as is possible and is willing to change his itinerary at any time. The Russian family said today however that they are pleased at the prospects of seeing so many facets of community life and would like to pursue the schedule arranged.

Today's schedule called for a big American-style breakfast, including sausages; visits to a junior and senior high school (probably for Mrs. Pozdneyev in particular because she is an English teacher); a Chamber of Commerce luncheon, an open house at the YMCA, and a Jaycee dance.

Mrs. McKenzie said about 20 Christmas cards addressed to the Pozdneyevs had arrived at the McKenzie house. Jaycee officials said they also had received a number of cards, and one or two gifts, for the visitors.

Gifts—other than some being arranged for Christmas Day presentation at the McKenzie

Construction Contract Let

Bliss Continues Expansion Here

The E. W. Bliss Company has awarded the general contract for the construction of additional erection facilities at the Salem Division to the Reilly Construction Company of Alliance, according to an announcement today by George Baillie, Jr., Division manager.

Baillie pointed out that construction of the additional erection shop facilities is phase No. 2 of the Bliss' current modernization program in Salem.

This part of the total program represents an expenditure of over $300,000 and will include the demolition of the existing pattern shop and pattern storage buildings at the southwest corner of the Bliss property at S. Ellsworth Ave. and Aetna St. In their place will be constructed a modern factory building including all the latest features in buildings of this type. The new building will be approximately 160 by 100 feet and will increase present erection capacity by about 50 per cent.

Demolition of the present pattern building will begin immediately with a July 1, 1964 completion date for the new building. Sub-contractors for the project are the Firestone Electric Co. and the Salem Plumbing and Heating Co., both of Salem, and the Harris Wrecking Co. of Cleveland. Williams and Trebilcock and Associates of Pittsburgh are the architects.

New Equipment Due

Phase No. 1 of the current program, which is the acquisition of new machine tools, is well under way with the purchase of a new multi-head planer-type milling machine which is scheduled for delivery June 1, 1964.

Baillie said that phase three of the program which calls for realignment of the present weld shop facilities is presently under study. "The total expenditure for the current program which was announced in September will be over one million dollars, and represents another significant step in the E. W. Bliss Company's continuing effort to expand and modernize the Salem facilities," he said.

"Previous expenditure in the company's long-range program at Salem have amounted to approximately $3,000,000 over the past five years."

"The Bliss Salem Division is a leading producer of rolling mills, large metal working presses and similar equipment."

House Slashes, Wheat Rider Are Rejected

Conferees To Try To Settle Major Differences Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House conferees will try to settle a difference of $470 million and iron out a dispute over grain sales to the Soviet bloc as they seek agreement today on foreign aid appropriations.

The Senate has voted $3,272,503.00 for foreign aid for the fiscal year that begins July 1, the House $2,801,700,000. It is the conferees' job to find a middle ground acceptable to both branches. The original White House request was for $4.5 billion.

This may prove easier to do than to hurdle the grains obstacle.

Issue Sharply Down

The issue was sharply drawn Thursday night when the Senate passed the aid bill 60-25 after deleting 52-32, a House amendment to prohibit the export-import bank from guaranteeing credit for trade with Communist countries.

The House adopted the amendment by a vote of 218-69 Monday and Republican leader Charles A. Halleck hinted that if House conferees go along with the Senate in knocking it out, House Republicans will ask that the bill be returned to conference. With the House planning to fold up shop tonight, a deadlock could result in putting the bill over until next year.

The Senate approved deletion of the commodity sale ban after Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield read a letter from President Johnson urging that course.

Johnson said sale of wheat and other commodities to Communist nations on reasonable terms are "good for our farmers and exporters, good for our shipping and railroad industry, good for our balance of payments, and good for the country."

"It makes no sense to jeopardize these possible gains by this legislative rider," Johnson said.

In addition to rejecting the House rider, the Senate turned back by wide bipartisan margins four attempts to make deep slashes in its appropriation. Two minor amendments trimming $7 million from the measure were accepted.

An amendment by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., to reduce the bill to $3 billion was rejected 35-31. An effort by Morse to slash supporting economic assistance to defense pact allies from $380 million to $300 million was turned down 55-28.

On other votes, Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., was defeated 53-34 on a move to cut supporting assistance from $380 million to $350 million. Another Ellender amendment, to reduce economic development funds from $800 million to $600 million, was beaten down, 54-30.

Then and Now

Airway to Berlin Still Not Placid Route

By AL SIMPSON
Brush-Moore Special Writer
THE CORRIDOR TO BERLIN (By Airmail) — The last time I saw Berlin I was looking down through a sky filled with death-dealing an aircraft fire. The B17 bomber immediately in front of us was hit. It exploded in a huge mass of flames. I saw parachutes. Today it's different. Yet our penetration to this capital of Germany was somewhat similar to that day in June 1945.

In World War II, our combat crew flew into Hitler's Reich with machine guns at our sides, our eyes ever watchful for the dreaded Nazi jets.

TODAY WE WERE forced to stay within a narrow air corridor or risk challenge by the modern jets of the Red Air Force.

An unreal aspect of this unreal war was the all-too-real way in which we were "led by the hand" down the airway to

For three minutes we circled above and just outside the south corridor entrance until the ground radar stations got a definite position fix on us. A solid sea of gray-white clouds stretched from the horizon, completely obscuring the ground.

Then, with our position "locked in" on the radar screens below, the "door" in the sky was opened and the thin electronic finger of radar pointed the way to Berlin.

BECAUSE we are Air Force Reserve personnel flying in an Air Force plane, those of us who had earned our wings were permitted to spend time with the crew in the C54's cockpit.

Having served as a navigator in combat missions over Germany, I particularly enjoyed comparing notes and observing the new techniques and instruments of the crew's navigator.

In the hot war 20 years ago, we faced extra hazard from anti-aircraft fire and fighters if we strayed from our charted course. So, today, our Berlin-bound crews face being forced down or shot down if they wander out of the corridor for any reason.

WE LISTENED with controlled anger as the pilot described the harassment techniques of the East German pilots who, at times, zoom up out of the clouds below, their planes' after-burners flaming, and "act tough," aerially speaking.

A short-lived clearing of the weather enhanced our approach to Berlin and enabled me to identify our immediate location by comparing visual sightings with our radar position.

Passing between the cities of Magdeburg and Wittenberg, the pilot called our attention to the fact that many of the major roads were snow-covered and only a few were opened. From this he deduced there is an absence of snow removal equipment in East Germany.

WITH THE ELBE RIVER behind us, the corridor terrain continued to unfold below.

No attempt to jam our electronic equipment had been made this time and no Red fighters had come up to look us over. Then we were over the city and setting down at Tempelhof Central Airport.

My admiration for the men who fly the airway to Berlin each day (to keep it open) increased in marked degree after our flight.

And I could understand even more the emotion which caused the Berliners to erect the Air-lyft Memorial in front of Tempelhof Airport.

Its symbolic shape reminds all who view it of the men who lost their lives in the operation of the 1948 airlift. Its three-pronged arc, lifting gracefully off into the sky, is known to the Berliners as "The Hunger Rake."

IT COMMEMORATES a Cold War battle and humanitarian action which prevented a magnificent city and outpost of the West from being starved into submission.

Compare the "Hunger Rake" with the "Berlin Wall." One portrays man's humanity; the other man's inhumanity to man.

Surely, in the words of the sign at "Checkpoint Charlie," the Allied crossing of the Wall, "Die Freiheit Darf Hier Nicht Enden." ("Freedom Must Not End Here!")

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Hospital Home Care Plan

If you were sick where would you rather be—at home or in a hospital? Most of us would rather be at home.

Recognizing this fact, hospitals in many communities have inaugurated home care plans where patients in some categories can be treated at home without any sacrifice of adequate medical care.

Although the Boston Dispensary has had such a plan for 167 years, the plan has not yet been adopted by more than a small percentage of hospitals but the idea is becoming more popular as appreciation of its advantages increases.

SOME PATIENTS in hospitals who would otherwise have to remain there for many months are sent home under this plan but are still carried on the hospital records as patients for whom the hospital is responsible. Others may be admitted to the hospitals home care plan without entering the hospital at all.

This type of service is particularly applicable to persons with chronic heart disease, paralysis, various kinds of rheumatism, cancer (after operation) and some mental illnesses.

This plan makes it possible for a hospital to extend its services to a larger number of persons without the necessity of building a new wing.

Treatment is still supervised by a staff doctor and the patients are attended by nurses, interns, dietitians, physical therapists and laboratory technicians as the occasion demands. The services vary with the hospital using this plan.

SOME ARE LIMITED to making a diagnosis and providing drugs. Others add minor operations and consultations with staff specialists. Nurses may change dressings, give hypodermic injections or demonstrate to the patients family procedures for his care.

The home atmosphere gives a distinct boost to the patients morale and in that way speeds recovery. The presence of the patient at home also relieves the family of worry, allows them to share in his care and eliminates a sometimes difficult trip to the hospital.

Also the cost of treatment is reduced to about one-fourth of what it would be were the patient in the hospital. Only those patients whose recovery will not be hindered by such care are selected.

IN SOME states where home care programs have been rapidly increasing in popularity the Blue Cross and other voluntary health insurance plans are extending coverage to recipients of home hospital care.

As the times change, methods of providing medical care change. When such changes represent an improvement, they are received with enthusiasm as the home care programs of an ever-increasing number of hospitals have been.

How Not to Do Business

Mayor Dean Cranmer, whose order for 270 parking meters in 1961 has been termed an illegal purchase by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp, is taking no chances from here on, apparently.

In urging City Council Tuesday night to appropriate funds for purchase of a fire department jeep at a cost of $7,938.50, the mayor, in the light of the meter hassle, let it be known the board of control was making no purchase unless Council first appropriated the funds.

This proper procedure could and should have been followed from the outset and the meters wouldn't read "tilt" as they now do after a court suit and the present quandary over who actually owns them. Every city official knows that on municipal purchases costing over $1,000, the city auditor must certify that the money for said purchase is in fund. In the case of the meters, the mayor, anxious and eager to get the city's new parking meter system into operation two years ago, placed the order for the 270 coin devices after receiving a verbal "green light" from Council and on the assumption that the city's regular contract with the Magee-Hale Park-O-Meter Co. for individual meters would cover the transaction legally. Auditor Helen Coyne refused to pay, and rightfully so.

Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp, in his lengthy opinion rendered Monday, declared the purchase "void from the start and that the city has not even a moral obligation to pay."

As it appears now, the city may awaken some morning and find its parking meters reclaimed by the Oklahoma City manufacturer, and only the "hitching posts" remaining.

Open Wide Please

Pardon us while we look a gift horse in the mouth.

Amid all sorts of fanfare and flourishes, President Johnson has just signed a college construction aid bill, authorizing nearly $1. billion for public and private college building.

At first blush, the federal program appears particularly well-suited to Ohio. That's because we've been hearing that federal funds would be allocated on a priority basis to states and institutions doing something to help themselves meet crushing enrollment demands.

We thought that might mean Ohio would be in on the ground floor, having earmarked $175 million of its newly approved capital improvements bond money for higher education facilities.

But word from the U.S. Office of Education suggests we were wrong and indicates Ohio's self-help program may have cut into the state's share of federal funds.

THE WORD is Ohio will receive all of $11.6 million out of the $1.2 billion. Of that, according to the U.S. Office of Education, some $9 million will be available for construction of undergraduate facilities.

We Won

Thank you, Y. A. Tittle. You made it respectable to be mature. There isn't a football fan alive who doesn't know that under your helmet shines a head of pure skin.

A nation has looked at your leathery face and into your deep-set eyes and found something there more encouraging than evidence that life is a monopoly of the young.

It's not that you are chronologically old—only 37 as the crowsfeet spread. But for a top-flight football player—most valuable in the National Football League this season—that's maturity plus.

You look old, mister. The lady I look old with said when she saw you on the gawk-box last Sunday night that you looked older than me, and that's getting up there, old-timer.

WHAT YOU'VE done, Y. A., is strike a blow for maturity in a sport where the emphasis is necessarily on youth.

It makes people wonder when they see you play football if the value of maturity is being overlooked other places.

Generally overlooked, we mean.

We swallow hard when we read about a boy wonder being put in charge of a job before he's old enough to be dry behind both ears.

We know what's going to happen.

The kid's going to go like a house afire, and anyone who ever saw a house afire can predict what happens next.

When the blaze subsides, the firemen will sift the ruins for evidence of what caused the blaze. Someone was careless.

THEY SAY the dead wood has to be pruned out. They say the buddy-duddies have to be juned. They say youth must be served; that the old dogs have had their day.

That's why we thank you, Y. A. Tittle—you and old Archie Moore and old Konrad Adenauer and oldies everywhere who keep the young at bay.

People are chuckling because you were tired after leading your team to the eastern division title in the National Football League.

You had every right to be tired. Men younger than you were tired, and they haven't carried your two added handicaps—responsibility for running the team and the moral obligation to prove there is no substitute for savvy.

Every time you ran a play, old boy, millions of us arthritic, string-halted, spavined, desiccated, leathery, tottering old tremblers were out there with you, holding tight to our eyeglasses, dentures, hearing aids and canes.

But we won, didn't we, Y. A.?

"Gee, I Wish DeGaulle Wouldn't Do That. He Always Ends His Requests With '—Or Else!'"

Down With the Wall

By VICTOR RIESEL

Communist East Germany, builder of the Berlin Wall, is being bolstered at Yuletide by millions of American dollars.

These dollars pay for East German goods imported into the United States for the Christmas gift trade. Similar profits on the Yuletide season are being made by allies of the East Berlin regime. Glass Christmas ornaments, toys, games and scores of other items have been pouring into the United States from behind the Iron Curtain.

The total East European Communist take from the United States is in the tens of millions of dollars. The smallest of these sales but the goriest is Hungary's toy trade in our country.

Angered by the East Berlin "administration's" delay in opening the Wall and by previous harassments of United States troops on the Autobahn, big Joe Curran, head of the National Maritime Union, had some of his aides research the Sino-Soviet import trade in the United States.

CURRAN's colleagues discovered that the bitterly anti-United States regime sold millions of dollars worth of Christmas items such as cameras, art, artificial fruit and flowers, typewriters, china ornaments and even mink in the United States. In 1962, these totaled some $3 million. All received Department of Commerce import licenses.

From Communist Czechoslovakia have come glass Christmas tree ornaments, bicycles, toys, games and chocolates.

From Hungary, out of which the Freedom Fighters fled just seven years ago, have come not only toys, but games and bicycles.

These are but the gift trade. Millions of dollars in additional commercial materials such as glass, cars, motorcycles, gloves and hat bodies are being sold here. These cut into employment in the United States.

The most successful Communist sales organization is in Poland. Communist factories and firms there have been selling the United States over 45 million a year worth of goods from mink to benzine. Much of this trade is for our Christmas season, too.

FROM POLAND annually comes almost a million dollars worth of toys, games, dolls, and linens.

Joe Curran's indignation is stirred by the fact that these countries are among the heaviest suppliers of Fidel Castro's Cuban economic state enterprises. The maritime labor chief also is apprehensive over the decline in jobs in our own "gift" industries.

Curran is further aroused by the conviction that the Soviet bloc, especially in the wheat deals, wants to have trade terms all its own way.

The Russians—who are buying wheat, not only for themselves, but also for the Eastern European satellites, who are negotiating for grain on their own—refuse to use American vessels in these transactions.

The other day Curran said he does not want to interfere with official State Department policy on his own. But he plans to urge the national AFL-CIO to take some action to pressure our government into at least getting a quid pro quo out of the 'bloc'.

Curran, backed by other maritime leaders, such as the longshoremen's president, Ted Gleason, will ask the AFL-CIO high command to move on this front at its mid-winter session next Feb. 17.

GLEASON HAS been angered particularly by the Polish Communist leaders. They are depriving the Polish people of vast quantities of food, Gleason said, pointing to the statistics on Polish government sales in the United States.

The Warsaw regime sells about $26 million worth of hams, pork and casein (a protein milk derivative) in the United States annually while their own people go hungry.

Gleason has been briefed by high government officials on the possibilities of hunger behind the Iron Curtain in coming months. These reports were made to Gleason in his ILLA headquarters at a 3 p.m. conference with Under Secretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. and Assistant Secretary of Labor James Reynolds on Wednesday, Dec. 11.

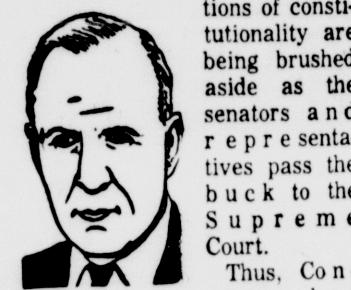

They told Gleason—I learn from other sources—that U.S. intelligence reports indicate there will be heavy rationing and breadless days imposed if we do not help feed the Communist bloc people. Yet their Communist regimes sell food in the United States in order to get our hard currency.

"The Communists are getting the aid of the civilized world," Gleason remarked the other day. "Let them at least be civilized and rip down that wall."

Unconstitutional School Aid

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The facts of life are beginning to catch up with Congress amid pressures for legislation in controversial fields. As usual, questions of constitutionality are being brushed aside as the senators and representatives pass the buck to the Supreme Court.

Thus, Congress has passed and President Johnson has signed into law a bill that provides more than a billion dollars for federal aid to education, and a good deal of it goes directly to aid church-related educational institutions.

Grants and loans have been authorized over a three-year period to 2,100 public and private institutions, of which 842 are supported or directed or controlled as to their educational programs by various churches.

The funds must be used to build classrooms or laboratories or libraries for the purpose of teaching mathematics, science, engineering or modern foreign languages. No money can be used to build chapels or sports arenas.

Now, the institutions receiving the funds are at the college or university level. No aid is being furnished to elementary schools. This procedure follows the line laid down by the Kennedy administration which opposed subsidies to private schools at the elementary level. It was argued that "across the board" subsidies to all educational institutions were unconstitutional.

THIS ATTEMPT to draw a line between the elementary and the higher schools of learning admittedly has been vulnerable. It has been argued, for instance, that if it's constitutional to furnish any money to a church-related college, it's just as permissible to do so at any level of schooling.

In answer, the point repeatedly has been made that attendance in the elementary schools is compulsory and that this is what makes it an act of the state, thus involving the government. This reasoning has never been supported by any high-court decisions. On the contrary, the furnishing by government of funds for transportation of pupils to and from public or parochial schools has been upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States.

Critics of the latest legislation insist that no government money at all can be furnished to any church-related institution but for several years now Congress has been helping to pay expenses for construction of certain facilities at the college level, and there has been no test of constitutionality.

In the bill just enacted, there was inserted by the Senate—but omitted in conference committee—a provision which would have allowed any taxpayer to sue in order to get a settlement of this issue. The sponsors of the main bill, however, thought that this was risky and that it would be better to avoid the legal controversies that might delay the construction program.

THE NEW LAW unquestionably opens the door to more federal aid to church-related colleges and schools of all kinds, provided some arrangement can be made to separate the teaching of religion from the teaching of non-religious subjects.

The facts of life, however, are plain to see. Members of the Catholic faith are contributing about $1.5 billion annually to support parochial schools and are being taxed as well to pay for the cost of public schools.

Recently a movement has arisen in Congress to permit tax deductions for tuition paid by parents or relatives for children in private schools. The view expressed is that there should be no unequal burden or penalty placed on citizens who want their children to get religious instruction in the schoolroom.

Congress has furnished tuition money to veterans of World War II and the Korean War, and the funds have been aid to colleges of all kinds, private or public, whether or not they teach religion or are controlled by churches.

No case has been brought against this practice. In fact, it is practically impossible to get a court test on constitutionality, as the citizen cannot sue the government on a question of federal appropriations.

INEVITABLY, the controversy over federal aid to church-supported schools will get into the coming campaign. Many Catholics were not happy over the legalistic argument made by the Kennedy administration about furnishing funds to church-supported schools at the college level, while denying them to elementary schools operated by churches.

It has been said in political circles that a Catholic in the presidency couldn't sponsor such a comprehensive approach, but that a Protestant president may sooner or later find that the Catholic vote of resentment against unequal treatment will cause Congress to go further than it has thus far and place funds also at the disposal of church-related elementary schools.

It would cost the federal government and the states several billion dollars if the Catholic citizenry suddenly decided to send all their children to public schools.

So it becomes a practical problem in finance, and that's the way Congress has been looking at it, as the new law proclaimed this week moves in the direction of more and more federal and state aid to all kinds of educational institutions.

Ann Landers Answers

Dear Ann Landers: I married late (at age 34) and I had a baby five years later. I was shocked. Two doctors told me I never would have a family.

My son was a colic baby and cried for six months straight. My husband and I didn't know what a good night's sleep was until that boy was 9 months old.

Reginald now is 6 and has caused us nothing but trouble. He broke up my friendship with three neighbors because he tore up their flowers, scratched their furniture with toys and hit their children.

They blamed me and said I didn't control him. Believe me, Ann, I spanked him repeatedly but it did no good.

Last week his first-grade teacher told me in her 23 years of teaching she never has seen a more difficult child. She suggested professional help. My husband says all the psychiatrists he knows are nuttier than their patients, and that our boy needs a military school.

We know a school that will take him at age 7. It's expensive but it may be worth it. What do you say?—EX-HAUSTED.

Dear Exhausted: I say the teacher gave you excellent advice and I hope you will take it. I could write five columns on what is wrong with your son and why—all based on the facts you have outlined in your letter. Run, don't walk, to the nearest doctor who specializes in disturbed children. Your child needs help desperately.

Bridge Kibitzer

Dear Ann: Something happened recently that made me realize the hazards of retirement—not so much for the man who suddenly finds himself with time on his hands, but for his poor wife.

I have belonged to a two-table bridge club for almost 20 years. We met every week at the home of one of the members, and all of us had a delightful time. Last month the women announced, rather mysteriously, that the club was disbanding because there seemed to be so many other things to do. Our final meeting was held two weeks ago.

I heard this morning that the club has been reorganized and I was left out. The reason? Since my husband retired six months ago the women dreaded coming to my home because my husband insisted on hovering over the tables and offering suggestions on how to play their hands.

I cannot deny that all they said is true. Frankly, he gets on my nerves, too, but what can I do about it? Please, please suggest something.—NOT-SO-GOLDEN-YEARS.

Dear Not-So-Golden: Your husband needs an outlet for his time and energies so he will not need to hang around you and your friends.

You know where his interests and his talents lie. Get busy and direct them into productive channels or he'll drive you both out of your minds.

Bridegroom's Parents

Dear Ann: Our son is planning to marry a nice girl who comes from a family that has nothing. He is our only child and frankly we had hoped for something better for him.

The bride's mother phoned yesterday and asked me to send a list of our close relatives. She said she was sorry we could not invite any friends to the dinner because they are working on a limited budget and must keep the dinner list down.

My husband and I are heart sick. We are well off financially and would like to foot the bill for the wedding and do it right. Please advise.—NOT HAPPY.

Dear Not Happy: Send off the abbreviated list and show no sign of disappointment or unhappiness. The bride's parents should have the kind of wedding they can afford and you should go along with it—graciously.

Hints from Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: Have you ever tried using sudsy ammonia on a damp cloth for polishing brass?

With one twist of the wrist all my knobs, hinges and fixtures shine like new. (Just be careful of the surrounding wood or paint.) Wipe with a clean damp cloth and dry well.

Be sure to test first to see if the items to be cleaned are SOLID brass. To do this testing, use a magnet (which can be purchased at the dime store). If the magnet clings to the article to be cleaned, then it is iron with only a brass coating... and should NOT be exposed to sudsy ammonia, because it will remove the coating of brass.

By using this method, at least one does not have to buy any elbow grease!

MRS. T. CARRINGTON.

Bless you. The magnet works! We never knew this before. What a way to test brass! We tested over 19 items in our home. time...

DEAR HELOISE: I could never hang tie-back curtains evenly, until my husband made this suggestion:

I lower the venetian blinds so that the bottom rod is exactly where I want my tie-back to be thumb-tacked in the frame of the window.

After tying back one criss-cross curtain and thumb-tacking it at exactly where this lower slat is, I walk to the other side of the window and there is my exact measurement for the other tieback!

MRS. R. A. FACTOR.

A MOTHER'S WORK

DEAR HELOISE: Here is some advice which will help other desperate mothers of teen-agers who just won't wear socks with their sneakers, and the insoles just won't come clean in the washing machine.

Buy a very stiff brush that will go down into the toes of the shoes and after removing strings, scrub the shoes with the small brush in warm, soapy water inside and out! Rinse of course.

This gets that dirt off. (When we were kids anyone caught going to bed with dirty feet... went to the foot tub again! Usually Daddy was standing over us in those days.

CAROL CABLE.

DEAR HELOISE: I save my husband's slightly faded sports shirts and using a matching, plain - colored material... make pajama trousers. This gives him an extra pair of pajamas.

MRS. H. S. MCGILL.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a handy tip for those of us who have leftover scraps of that adhesive-backed plastic paper:

I was wiping out my daughter's metal lunch box and noticed it was becoming rusty. I thought of those lovely scraps of paper I had saved and I used them to line her lunch box.

The paper made the inside bright and colorful and also hid the nasty old rusty spots. Now all it takes is a swipe with a damp sponge to get it clean.

Cherie.

HELOISE: For all those jars one saves for leftovers, and to store things, I remove the labels, then paint the lids to harmonize with my kitchen colors. Instead of just jars, they become pretty containers. As they are not opaque like most refrigerator containers I can see just what, and how much is inside.

MRS. O. N.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Scholarship Assn. Names Parker; Fund Appeal Made

An appeal for contributions to bolster the student loan fund of the Salem Community Scholarship Association was issued today by Jack Klein, president of the organization.

He said the fund has reached a point where, unless additional donations are received immediately, the association may have to discontinue loans to deserving students.

He pointed out that the association's cash reserve amounts to only $889, compared to loan commitments of $1,950 for the balance of the current school term. Outstanding loans to students now total about $23,000.

Donations may be sent to Association Treasurer E. M. Stephenson at the Farmers National Bank.

At the biennial meeting of the trustees at the high school Thursday night, A. A. Parker, president of Parker Chevrolet and chairman of the municipal utilities commission, was elected president of the Association for a two-year term, beginning Jan. 1.

Henry Zimmerman, a sales engineer, was elected vice-president, a position held for the past two years by Parker. Victor Lake, an instructor at the Salem School of Technology, was elected a new trustee for a six-year term replacing Zimmerman. James Gregg, a trustee for the last two years, was re-elected to a six-year term.

Klein, as retiring president, becomes a trustee ex-officio for six years. The trustees will meet next month to elect a secretary and treasurer.

Because of the present financial crisis, the trustees voted to limit loans to college students who have completed at least two years of study and to graduate students furthering their education.

Extension of County Tax Collection OK'd

A 30-day extension of the collection date for the first-half collection of the 1963 real estate taxes, was okayed by Columbiana County Commissioners Thursday.

The new collection date is Jan. 20, 1964.

Treasurer Vincent C. Judge said that because of extra levies in some areas of the county, which were passed at the November election and special elections, he does not expect to have the tax rates figured until sometime in March.

If another extension of the collection date is necessary, it will have to be granted by the Ohio Tax Commission because county commissioners are allowed to grant only one extension.

The visitors appeared a bit overwhelmed by their welcome and press conference Thursday at New York and Washington, D.C., airports. A third session with newsmen was planned in Ohio, but it was canceled. Jaycees said the Russians were very tired and that Mrs. Pozdneyev, the only one who speaks English, was a trifle airsick.

About 200 persons were on hand at the Scioto County Airport to greet them, despite near-zero temperatures. Arriving with the Moscow family were McKenzie and his son, Philip, 14, and Jaycee Ronald McCowen, all of whom had gone to New York to accompany the guests to Ohio.

At New York's Idlewild Airport, McKenzie remarked: "I'm favorably impressed with them. They look a little frightened to me."

McKenzie, a member of the Portsmouth Board of Education, said, "We would like to work them into our Christmas celebration. We hope they will help decorate our Christmas tree and that in other ways they will see our faith in the Supreme Being."

He said his wife planned "diversified American Meals of hot dogs, hamburgers and steak."

Young Philip said he was eager to take Anatoly to a high school basketball game.

"Our two stars are colored," Philip said, "and we want to let him see how the finest people in our city root for these boys."

line. Swirling, drifting snow dropped visibility to zero on the superhighway. Hundreds of motorists were stranded along the road, while others groped perilously to service areas to wait out the storm's fury.

Another blast of icy air moved across the plains and headed into the lower Mississippi Valley.

Weather Bureau officials said no immediate general break in the unseasonable cold weather was indicated. However, they said temperatures were expected to moderate in parts of the Gulf region.

As the icy air dropped deep into the South, the mercury edged near freezing for the second straight morning in Tampa, Fla. It was 29 in Pensacola, Fla., 31 in Mobile, Ala., and near freezing in New Orleans.

Readings were more than 20 below zero in many sections of the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin and it was 15 below at O'Hare International Airport in Chicago. Chicago's 6 below was the eighth straight day of zero or below zero readings in December, an all-time record for the month.

Contractor Faces Several Charges In Bank Holdup

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP)—A 33-year-old housing contractor-builder continued recuperating from a shotgun injury today with the unhappy prospect of facing a variety of charges arising out of a thwarted bank robbery.

Lloyd Blackford of Sidney was lying flat on his back in Wilson Memorial Hospital Thursday when U.S. Commissioner Robert Snell read charges against him of bank robbery, using a weapon to commit a robbery and taking a hostage.

Snell hardly had finished with the informal arraignment when Sidney Police Chief John Warner announced that local authorities have charged Blackford with assault with intent to kill and auto theft.

Blackford underwent a minor operation Wednesday to remove a shotgun pellet received after the robbery at a branch of the First National Exchange Bank Tuesday.

He was ordered held under $100,000 bond pending removal to Dayton and eventual formal arraignment in U.S. District Court there when his condition permits. Authorities think his condition will permit transfer to the Montgomery County jail in Dayton in a few days.

Family Flees As Fire Levels Home

Fire of undetermined origin leveled the one-story frame home of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Evanoff. Sr. of RD 4, Salem, early Thursday.

Volunteer firemen from the Berlin Center and Ellsworth departments were called to the site, located at the corner of Western Reserve and Cook roads in Mahoning County, at 2 a.m. by Evanoff who had to go one-fourth of a mile to use a neighbor's telephone after he was awakened by the smell of smoke.

By the time firemen arrived, the inside of the structure was gutted. Near zero weather and frozen pumps hindered their attempts to salvage the building or any of its contents. By 5:30 a.m., nothing was left of the house.

The family escaped unhurt.

'Bama Guardsmen Charged With Setting Explosions

TUSCALOOS, Ala. (AP) — Four Alabama National Guardsmen have been charged with touching off minor explosions near the University of Alabama while on federal duty to uphold court-ordered desegregation of the school.

Authorities say more arrests are expected.

Three blasts occurred last month—two Nov. 16 and one Nov. 19. All were near a dormitory housing Negro student Vivian Malone, who was admitted under federal court orders along with James A. Hood in June. Hood later withdrew.

The men arrested Thursday were with the last units still on duty after President Kennedy federalized the entire Alabama Guard during a showdown with Gov. George Wallace.

All troops were demobilized Nov. 20, the day after the last explosion. No one was hurt in any of the explosions.

The men were rounded up during the late afternoon and night. The first man arrested was 2nd Lt. James T. Perkins, 27, of Holt, Ala., a suburb of Tuscaloosa. He later posted $5,000 bond.

Police identified two of the others as Sgt. Norman R. Daniel of Fairfield, Ala., a suburb of Birmingham, and Cpl. James T. Maxwell, 27, of Tuscaloosa. Maxwell also posted bond.

The name of the fourth man was not available immediately.

Perkins and Maxwell were charged with the first Nov. 16 detonation. The warrant against them said they set off dynamite or some other explosive in or near the home of Rev. James T. Malone, who lives close to Mary Burke Hall, where Miss Malone lives.

Daniel is charged with the Nov. 19 blast, which occurred about three blocks from the dormitory.

Perkins, contacted at home after he posted bond, said: "I can't think right to comment at this time."

Authorities declined to speculate about the motive for the bombings.

In 1958, he turned them over to a German newsman who was writing about anti-Semitism in Germany. The newsman handed them to Fritz Bauer, attorney general of the State of Hesse. The investigation began soon after.

Most of the 22 defendants had settled in civilian life.

ice were stationed at the Sonnenallee crossing to transport the old and infirm to their relatives.

The Communist visiting permits are good for only one day. The West Berliners must return by midnight except on New Year's Eve. Then the time limit is extended to 5 a.m.

About 40 West Berliners jumped the gun and saw their loved ones behind the wall for a few hours Thursday, although today was the official starting day. The early birds put Thursday's date on their applications for permits, and the East German postal officials apparently didn't notice the date in the confusion of handling so many applications.

Officials on both sides of the wall were surprised when the first visitors walked or drove through the control points in the wall. But the Communists let them through.

County Sheriff's Office said the packed snow and drifts had reduced the safe speed on Interstate 90 to 25 miles an hour.

The G.I. Turnpike was reported clear of snow.

Because of the heavy accumulations in Ashtabula and eastern Lake counties school children started their Christmas vacation a day early in those areas.

The coldest spot in Ohio was Delaware, where 18 below zero was recorded. Dayton had 12 below, and a 21-year-old record was shattered at Columbus when the temperature fell to 10 below.

Other lows around the state included Cleveland -3, Cincinnati -8, Akron -5, Toledo -6, Youngstown -5, Zanesville -7, and Chesapeake and Marietta -2.

Voting

it said: "No American should have to buy his right to vote in any election."

The commission chairman, Census Director Richard M. Scammon, told reporters the recommendation applied to state and federal elections.

Cited as the major argument for 18-year-old voting was the belief that, by the time young people reach 21, they are "so far removed from the stimulation of the educational process that their interest in public affairs has waned."

The report lamented "the low voter participation of the age group from 21 to 30." It surmised that many young people never acquire the voting habit because they fail to start voting right after graduation from high school.

Georgia and Kentucky now are the only states which allow 18-year-olds to vote. The age minimum is 19 in Alaska and 20 in Hawaii and 21 in the other 46 states.

Santa and the Haunted House

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Nog, as Santa Claus, went off to Santa Land to prepare a dreadful Christmas. The children rushed to help Santa, now an old woman, and Jeremy decided the charm should be broken.

(Chapter 16)

VISIT TO THE FAIRY QUEEN

Santa took Jeremy's small hand in his shaking fingers. "Only the Queen Fairy can break the charm," he said. "And Fairyland is far away. I am too decrepit to get there."

"C-could I get there?" asked Jeremy.

"You can," said Santa, "if you believe you can."

"Oh, I do!" declared Jeremy. "I do, too!" exclaimed Sissy.

"Me, too," chimed in Miss Jo. "Then go," said Santa. "Go as fast as you can to the very end of Burning Tree Road. Turn left on Little Branch Trail. When you come to the fork, take three giant steps down Red Cow Path. There you will find a chestnut tree. Where the second branch meets the trunk there is a hole and in the hole there is a bottle. Take one sip each from the bottle."

"Is that all?" asked Jeremy. "That is all. Only hurry, for time is very short."

THE CHILDREN RACED away and did all they had been told. But when they came at last to the chestnut tree the lowest branch was too high for Jeremy to reach.

He shimmied up the trunk but just as he was about to reach the branch he lost his grip and crashed to the ground, cutting his lip and knocking out a tooth.

He put the tooth in his pocket and got on his hands and knees. "Climb on my back," he told Sissy. Sissy did and then Miss Jo wiggled up both of them until she was high enough to reach the first branch. She got to the second branch and there was a hole where it joined the trunk and in the hole was a tiny blue bottle.

She climbed down with the bottle and all three children took a sip from it. Hardly had they swallowed than they fell on the ground in a heap and went fast asleep.

WHEN THEY AWOKE they were in a marble palace. The floors were covered with gold carpet. Columns, so big three people couldn't put their arms around them, stretched to a ceiling that seemed half a mile away. Wreaths of holly decorated the walls and there was a giant Christmas tree, glittering with stars, in the center of the room. A 30-piece orchestra sat at the side of the room. As the children gazed in wonder, the orchestra struck up and a host of fairy creatures strolled into the room and began to dance.

The most beautiful creature of all clapped her hands. The music stopped and the beautiful one said, "It is now past 12 and Christmas Eve. I, the Fairy Queen, declare that we shall feast and dance for two whole days and nights and this will be the gayest Christmas ever!"

Everyone cheered but before the music could start again Jeremy plunged through the crowd. "Oh, your majesty, you've got to do something quickly!" he cried.

THE QUEEN LOOKED at him in astonishment as he blurted out the whole story of how Nog was Santa now and Santa was an old woman in the Haunted House and it was up to the

"Take three giant steps down Red Cow Path. There you will find a chestnut tree."

Queen to break the charm. "You must break it right away," finished Jeremy, "or it will be too late."

The Queen turned pale and her hands fluttered wildly. "Yes, Yes," she moaned. "But there are three things I must have to break the charm: something gold, something pearl and something invisible."

"Done!" said the Prince at her side. "There are plenty such things around."

"But you see," said the Queen. "They must be real and not things from fairyland at all."

"Then we are lost," cried the Prince. "For there is no time to search these things down."

Then all the fairy creatures sorrowed and the Queen was the most sorrowful of all.

Tomorrow: Merry Christmas to All

Pipe Smokers

By WICK TEMPLE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A pipe smoker is a lot like a porcupine. Sooner or later he's bound to make somebody mad.

Pipe smoking presents a new social problem for those who don't already have enough. If one's wife likes the smell of his tobacco, his boss can't stand it, or vice versa.

A pipe tobacco that suits everyone usually tastes like mud. I have been a pipe aficionado for several years and have made an involuntary study of reactions of various people to the habit. Some politely cough. Others cry.

"Does this pipe bother you?" te smoker asks innocently.

"Oh no (gasp), not at all." Yet pipe smoking has its brighter side. Many women are enchanted by the smell and can't get close enough to the gentleman with the briar.

Smoking a pipe progresses from an experiment to a habit to a hobby to an obsession. But hobby is the best word for it. Every veteran pipe smoker takes pride in his rack. He may not have smoked certain pipes for years, and his wife badgers him to throw them out. But each one holds certain sentimental significance.

The one with the crooked stem and the lion carved on the bowl was bought in the mountains and dropped into a stream the day you caught that five-pound bass.

The yellow-stemmed pipe with the broken bit was given to you by your son on a Christmas long ago.

The pipe smoker is aided in his avocation by thoughtful merchandisers who provide all kinds of chemicals and tools for cleaning, and issue dire warnings against the use of knives or other simple objects for operating on pipes.

There are four main kinds of pipes. The briar is cut from roots of briar plants around the Mediterranean. Meerschaum is dug in Asia Minor. The calabash, perhaps the most rare and often most prized, is a South African gourd.

The only truly American pipe is the corncob. Its place in history was assured when Gen. Douglas MacArthur stepped onto a Pacific beach with the stem of one clamped between his teeth.

College Holiday Cage Tournaments Start Tonight

Kentucky Battles Big 10's Badgers

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
College basketball's merry whirl of Christmas tournaments, a holiday delight to followers of the sport, gets started in earnest tonight.

The big one is the UK Invitational at Lexington, Ky. where the host Kentucky Wildcats, second-ranked nationally, meet Wisconsin of the Big Ten. In the other first round game the Ivy League champion, Princeton and its heralded Bill Bradley, tangles with Wake Forest of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Then there is the Sun Devils Cassie at Tempe, Ariz., the Virginia Tech Invitational at Blacksburg, Va. and the Arkansas State Invitational at Jonesboro, at Tempe, it will be Michigan State vs. California and Arizona State vs. Oklahoma. At Blacksburg, Maryland meets Tennessee and Virginia Tech takes on Louisiana State. At Jonesboro, Tulane is paired against Texas Western and William and Mary against Arkansas State.

The Bluebonnet Classic at Houston, actually not a tournament, Duke's 84-73 victory over Virginia, Wichita's 71-65 defeat of Minnesota and New Mexico's 59-54 conquest of Kansas highlighted a comparatively slim national program Thursday night.

Duke's No. 5 Blue Devils were only team in The Associated Press top ten to see action. Jeff Mullins, who wound up with a total of 30, threw in eight straight points that thwarted a

San Diego Favored To Whip Denver In AFL Title Clash

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The secret of beating Sid Gillman is to work for him first as an assistant coach. Jack Faulkner and Al Davis are 5-0 against their old boss in American Football League competition.

Now it is Faulkner's turn to try again with Gillman's San Diego Chargers needing to win or tie their finale with Denver to clinch the Western Division title.

If Faulkner upsets Gillman again, San Diego will fall right into the same trap. A San Diego defeat and an Oakland victory over Houston in Sunday's final game would set up a tie playoff between Gillman and Davis's Raiders. The name of the game is Beat the Boss.

Faulkner beat Gillman twice last year and thumped his

Wittenberg Loses Heartbreaker 54-52; Otterbein Romps 71-60

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Crippled Wittenberg, Ohio's pride, lost a heartbreaker, 54-52, Thursday night to Westminster of Pennsylvania in a basketball battle between two cubs that jockeyed for No. 1 national small college ranking last season.

It was the second defeat in five games for the Springfield Tigers. Pre-season calculations had them right at the top of the ratings again, what with four returning starters.

But with both big guns, A Thrasher and Bob Cherry, out with injuries, it's become rough for last year's NCAA College Division tournament runners-up. Gabe Kovacs, 6-foot-4 junior from Lakewood filling in for Thrasher, came through as Wittenberg high point man a second straight game but his 16 points couldn't turn the trick.

Dave Schreengost's goal with six seconds left broke a 52-52 tie and settled the issue.

Three of Wittenberg's Ohio Conference rivals also played Thursday night on holidaytime tours. Capital lost to the Quantico Marines 76-72, the Purple's first setback in seven games. The loss reduced the Buckeye unbeaten list to four of the 41 schools recognized by the NCAA or NAIA.

Otterbein (5-2) beat Marian of Indianapolis 71-60 in the consolation game of the Indiana Central Tournament while Wooster (4-2) conquered Hartwick N.Y. 78-73.

Capital fought a fine effort against the Marines, perennial

Lowe Receives Recognition In Pro Loop

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Only Paul Lowe and his coach knew until today that the flashy San Diego Charger halfback fractured a leg in the first regular game of this season.

"But I was determined not to let it keep me out," Lowe declared after making the disclosure in an interview.

He had been asked how he felt about being chosen the American Football League's Comeback Player of the Year by an Associated Press panel of sports writers and sports broadcasters.

"It's a pretty inspiring thing," he replied, "as inspiring, I'd say as being named Player of the Year. I am deeply honored."

He said he was also pleased that his teammate, veteran quarterback Tobin Rote, had been named Player of the Year.

Lowe, who makes great use of his speed and agility, was out of action all last season because of a broken arm that required surgery to mend.

This year it was the leg that threatened to put him on the shelf again.

He said a hairline fracture was discovered in his left leg after the opening game with Buffalo Sept. 8.

"But nobody ever knew about it but me and Sid Gillman," Lowe said. Gillman is the Charger coach and general manager.

Lowe has carried the ball 827 yards in 160 rushing tries and has run for six touchdowns. He has also taken two touchdown passes and in three kickoff returns he has gone 204 yards.

5th Annual And Probably Last Liberty Bowl Slated Saturday

By BOB GREN
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Liberty Bowl's troubles are legion—ranging from weather to finances to threats of boycott. But the problems don't extend to football.

North Carolina State and Mississippi State, two of the nation's best college teams, will take care of that end of it. They're scheduled to play in Philadelphia's vast, 102,000 seat Philadelphia Stadium Saturday in the fifth and perhaps last Liberty Bowl.

Bowl promoter Bud Dudley predicts a crowd of only 10,000, which entails a personal financial licking of about $20,000 for him. The game is scheduled for

Bob Carbaugh and Tom Cope led the Faculty unit with eight points apiece. Jack Alexander chipped in with four markers. Marlin Davidson and Bing Newton each collected three points, while Don Clarico and Dick Conyers had a bucket apiece.

McKinley, Ralston Turn Down Pro Offers

United States Tennis Stars Plan To Remain As Amateurs

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—Should the Americans recapture the Davis Cup from the Australians next week as expected they may set up a monopoly reminiscent of the Bill Tilden days in the early 1920s and the Jack Kramer era just after World War II.

The two top U.S. aces, Chuck McKinley, 23, and Dennis Ralston, 22, emphasized that they have no immediate pro plans and expect to be playing in amateur ranks for the next several years.

"The pros made me an unsatisfactory offer and I rejected it," said Wimbledon champion McKinley. "I do not expect any reopening of negotiations and I am not sure that I want to play pro tennis at all."

Ralston, newest sensation of American tennis, said flatly he is not interested in a pro career. "I want to finish college and then I want to play a lot more amateur tennis," the University of Southern California junior said. "I want to win Wimbledon and our own championship. I'm not even thinking about pro tennis."

Former pro czar Jack Kramer, and the current president of the playing professionals group, Frank Sedgman, will be interested observers when McKinley and Ralston square off against the Cup-holding Australians on the Memorial courts here next Thursday.

The pros desperately need new blood from the amateurs to revitalize a sagging interest in their tour and McKinley and Ralston are prime prospects. Speculation is that the pros will have to settle for Mexico's Rafael Osuna, holder of the American championship.

McKinley said that Segman had offered him a $50,000 guarantee, with $60,000 promised if the Americans win the Cup. Chuck refused to start talking for less than 75 grand.

Ralston said he had not yet been approached and he did not expect an offer until he won a major championship such as Wimbledon or the U.S. National.

Both admitted that their present attitude might change in case someone offered a fantastic figure such as perhaps $100,000. Both discounted such a possibility.

Griffith Faces Carter Tonight

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Emile Griffith, the welterweight champion who wants to be middleweight king, steps into the ring tonight against Rubin (Hurricane) Carter, who also has title aspirations.

Griffith, named fighter of the year by the boxing writers association, is a slight favorite in the scheduled 10-round non-title bout, which will be nationally televised.

The winner will be in a strong contention position for a crack at middleweight champion Joey Giardello.

Carter, 26, of Paterson, N.J., the No. 2-ranked middleweight, is not dismayed by the fact he is the underdog or because his opponent is a champion.

"I'm going to beat Griffith by a knockout," he said. "No welterweight has any business in the ring with me."

Griffith, 24, of New York, left little doubt of what he thinks the outcome will be.

"When I beat Rubin I want to fight for the middleweight title," he said.
